

Jon Stover

From: David Marchant [david.marchant@corp.pocketmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, October 21, 2003 3:21 PM
To: Jon Stover
Subject: RE: PocketMail

RECEIVED

OCT 28 2003

Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary

Jon,

PocketMail Inc. acquired the business and assets of PocketScience Inc. (subsequently renamed Pocket.com Inc.) in May 2001. PocketScience Inc. / Pocket.com Inc. have since been wound up.

In my view, this request to the Commission died with the aforementioned winding up.

We have no interest in pursuing.

Regards

David Marchant

David Marchant
 Chief Executive Officer
 PocketMail
 Two North Second Street
 Suite 350
 San Jose
 California
 95113

Tel: 08 689 1241 (tel)
 F: 408 689 1248 (fax)

1800 6749 77 (ext 241) [if calling from Australia]

www.pocketmail.com

-----Original Message-----

From: Jon Stover [mailto:Jon.Stover@fcc.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, October 07, 2003 8:17 AM
To: David Marchant
Subject: RE: PocketMail

Dear Mr. Marchant, Thank you again for calling me. As I said on the phone, your former subsidiary, PocketScience (PS), had requested the Commission in 1998 to impose technology on payphone operators that would allow payphones to bill in 6 second increments. The PS request was denied by the Commission in its Third Report and Order on Payphones released on Feb 4, 1999. In denying PS' request, the Commission concluded that the costs of imposing such technology on payphones was prohibitive. On April 21, 1999, PS petitioned the Commission to reconsider its Feb. 4 conclusion. In light of the dissolution of your PS subsidiary, may I ask you to notify us in a written reply to this e-mail what your plans are for the pending recon petition? I have attached a copy of that petition per your request. Sincerely, Jon Stover

-----Original Message-----

From: David Marchant [mailto:david.marchant@corp.pocketmail.com]

NO. 03-06-0003 /
 TEL. 000000

Sent: Friday, October 03, 2003 4:30 PM
To: Jon Stover
Subject: PocketMail

David Marchant
Chief Executive Officer
PocketMail
Two North Second Street
Suite 350
San Jose
California
95113

+1 408 689 1241 (tel)
+1 408 689 1248 (fax)

1300 65 99 77 (ext 241) [if calling from Australia]

www.pocketmail.com